Staff news from United Methodist Homes

United Methodist Homes' president and CEO Brian Picchini announced that Kyle Harchar is now interim vice president of finance. Harchar joined UMH in early 2012. He previously served as financial analyst, finance manager, and director of finance. Prior to UMH he was a senior accountant at ParenteBeard LLC. Harchar is a graduate of Lehigh University, where he earned a bachelor's degree in accounting and a master's in accounting and information analysis. He also holds a CPA license. "Kyle will lead the finance team at UMH and serve as a member of our operations leadership team," Picchini said.

Technical support specialist Joe Quanne completed the 540-mile Empire State Ride, a seven-day bicycle tour that began in New York City and ended at Niagara Falls. He raised nearly $4,000 for Roswell Park Cancer Institute research through sponsorship support from family, friends and UMH co-workers.

In other UMH staff news, Colleen Ashworth is the new staff education / employee health coordinator at the Hilltop Campus in Johnson City, and Kate Conant is the new administrator of the James G. Johnston Memorial Nursing Home. At the corporate office Melissa Stark is the new clinical software support specialist, and Paul Golaszewski has taken on new responsibilities as director of the United Methodist Homes Foundation.

United Methodist Homes is a faith-based 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, founded in 1958, that operates two continuing care retirement communities in the Greater Binghamton region of New York and another in the Scranton/Wilkes-Barre region of Pennsylvania, and a personal care campus in Tunkhannock, Pa. UMH serves more than 1,100 residents at its four sites and has more than 1,000 employees.
